Rockefeller Public Service Awards

The Rockefeller Public Service Awards program, for the second year, will honor outstanding achievements in public service--at the local, state or national level--in the public or private sector.

Nominations of extraordinary work are sought in critical problem areas facing our nation. Those identified for the 1977 program are:

1. Expansion of employment opportunities
2. Administration of justice and reduction of crime
3. Conservation and development of natural resources and protection of environment
4. Revitalization of communities and neighborhoods
5. Promotion of health, improved delivery of health services, and control of health costs
6. Reduction of the serious imbalance between population growth and food supplies
7. Enhancing partnership between the public and private sectors in the public interest

It is anticipated that five awards of $10,000 will be made.

The enclosed brochure describes this nationally-known program, including information about the nomination process.

Your interest is extremely important in identifying persons who have made outstanding contributions in public service. We thank you for your help and cooperation.
